LIFE TOMORROW

Our Mission

Invest

in under-funded, cutting-edge pediatric cancer research

In the past five years, we have funded $1,400,000 in Childhood Cancer Research Grants for innovative research projects.

Improve

the lives of children living with cancer through the arts

Our Pablove Shutterbugs program teaches children living with cancer to develop their creative voice through the art of photography. To date, we have served more than 1,000 children in the United States.

Pablove Shutterbugs is a curriculum-based arts education photography program for children and teens living with cancer, addressing some of the most crucial issues kids face when going through treatment. These include feelings of isolation, decreased self-confidence, and lack of opportunities to interact with their peers. The Pablove Foundation hosts two five-week classes each year, led by a professional teaching artist providing lessons in lighting, portraiture, and other aspects of photography.
