

2022/2023 IMPACT REPORT

the pablove foundation
fighting childhood cancer with love

YOU are an integral part of who we are and our future

A MESSAGE FROM

Kerstin Lynam
PABLOVE CEO

Cancer is no fun, and no child should experience it

With your support, Pablove does what parents can't do alone, creating community for kids with cancer.

Your generosity in 2022 has been transformational for kids who need a healing outlet and hope for a cure.

Your gifts have meant that kids with cancer like Danial on our cover page have a reason to get out of bed and find beauty in life again!

We continue to experience scary times; times that fester economic uncertainty.

Pablove prides itself on running "lean + mean" – we even managed to reduce our operating costs by nearly 25% the last few years, always thriving through innovation!

Nonetheless, we are not immune to the pains of a recession. Your support is needed now more than ever.

There is an inherent magic and sacred innocence to what we do, possibly rooted in young Pablo's own passion for photography.

We must preserve it at all costs. YOU are an integral part of who we are and our future. Please keep hope alive and make Pablove part of your charitable giving when you can!

THANK YOU!

with pablove,

Kerstin

Childhood Cancer Research
Grants in 2022

Here are the brilliant scientists we're funding!

Patricia Denise B. Tiburcio, PhD

University of Texas, Southwestern Dallas, Texas
Funded by Gentleman Token In Honor of Michelle Laderman

Studying: Wilms Tumor

With her Powered by Pablove funding, Dr. Tiburcio will examine a novel combination of existing drugs to help overcome resistance to Dactinomycin, one of the main chemotherapies used to treat Wilms tumor and other pediatric cancers.

Aasef G. Shaikh MD, PhD

Functional Electrical Stimulation Institute, Cleveland, Ohio
Funded in partnership with the Viswanatha Family + Friends

Studying: Opsoclonus Myoclonus Syndrome (OMS)

Dr. Shaikh is using well developed computer simulation models to further our understanding of opsoclonus and identify potential treatment targets.

Shahrzad Bahrampour, PhD

The Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, Ontario, Canada
Funded by #ColbyStrong

Studying: Pediatric Brain Tumors

Dr. Bahrampour aims to understand how a very specific kind of leak in the blood brain barrier can be manipulated and clarify its therapeutic potential for kids with Medulloblastoma.

ADDITIONAL ONGOING RESEARCH PROJECTS

Powered by Pablove

Vicki Huff, PhD University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center
Assessment of a cancer preventive agent for Wilms tumor

Thais Armangué, MD PhD August Pi i Sunyer Biomedical Research Institute
Opsoclonus myoclonus syndrome: a novel approach to antigen identification and disease modeling

Natalie Wu, PhD Children's Hospital Medical Center
Identification of cellular diversity and tumor-initiating cells driving NF-to-MPNST and drug resistance by single-cell multiomics for targeted therapy

Duarte Delfim, MD PhD i3S - Health Research and Innovation Institute
Cell competition as a mechanism to eliminate minimal residual disease in acute myeloid leukemia

Fund-Your-Own Research Grant Model Launched!

We are excited to work with individuals, families and companies to sponsor their own research!

We are excited to have FULLY FUNDED a The Pablove Foundation seed grant in honor of #ColbyStrong. Colby’s journey has inspired us to take action for tangible change against this beast.

We selected the grant that we think has the most potential to make the biggest impact for kids fighting cancer, specifically Medulloblastoma, where the cure rates are pretty sobering. We can’t wait to follow Dr. Bahrapour’s progress!

– Dr. Courtney Horvath, mom of Shutterbug Colby, Pablove Board Member

Pablove Shutterbugs, our signature arts education program, teaches kids with cancer to develop their creative voice through photography.

In 2022, we enrolled 215 kids in our classes, which were offered both virtually and in-person in select cities.

The Pablove Shutterbugs program is available Nationwide!

Shutterbugs are snapping photos across the nation and expressing their creativity through the lens. Donors like YOU are adding to the joy and quality of life for nearly 2,000 kids with cancer who have benefited from our evidence-based program.

2022 Shutterbugs SUMMER CAMP

For the first time in 3 years, Shutterbugs came together for our popular Alumni Summer Camp in Lake Arrowhead, CA. We enjoyed a peaceful week in nature, making new friends and taking our photography skills to the next level. Some campers flew in from across the country, thanks to the generous support of donor-funded travel grants that allowed them to be part of this transformative experience.

Words from our Shutterbugs

Shutterbugs was a true blessing for me, especially during my cancer treatment! I love the outdoors and it gave me a chance to look at so many beautiful things. I also made a new friend who I still talk to all the time! I love this picture because I dedicate most of my time to baking + cooking and it's a perfect reflection of me!

We are so happy we signed up Theo for Shutterbugs. His favorite part of the class is sharing his photos with the other students and doing his “assignments.” Thank you for providing this wonderful experience and teaching our kids photography!

Introducing the Shutterbugs Community You Support

We believe that treatment goes beyond medical care and all pediatric cancer families should have access to our program— independent of where they live and their circumstances. Here is a snapshot of what our community looks like:

Cancers our Shutterbugs are Fighting

Words from our Shutterbugs

Watching my son suffer over and over has been the hardest thing I have been through. When he is in pain there is nothing I can do to help the pain go away and that breaks my heart. Ayden is so strong and always has a smile on his face. I want him to be a kid and have fun and not focus too much on his treatment. He is so young and innocent. He has no idea what cancer is, and that he’s fighting it for the second time.

- Iliana, mom of Shutterbug Ayden, age 7

UNTITLED

SUNLIGHT + SHADE

GOOD MORNING

Looking forward

Pablove Shutterbugs

We remain focused on further expanding our reach so that more kids with cancer living in any U.S. state can benefit from the Shutterbugs program.

OUR 2023 PLANS INCLUDE

Re-introducing our in-person Advanced Class

Targeting more major childrens' hospitals to enroll into our programs

We are currently looking for program support to also develop another Teen Shutterbugs Class that teaches how to safely and effectively use photography across social media

UPCOMING EVENTS

We're planning a large-scale national Shutterbugs Virtual Gallery Show plus in-person pop-up gallery shows in select communities. Stay tuned for our announcements on social media!

PABLOVE ACROSS AMERICA

An amazing group of cyclists came together for PAA 2022 and pedaled from Boulder to Vail, raising awareness and funds for our mission.

The poetic beauty of the scenery was only rivaled by the generous and compassionate hearts of our riders and cycling community.

We start each day of our ride with a dedication to a young cancer warrior who is fighting, or lost their battle. This emotionally-charged tradition represents the many who need our help and is a vital part of the PAA experience.

Love bikes? Ride with us! Learn more at pablove.org/paa or scan the code!

LOOKING FORWARD: This September, Pablove Across America 2023 pedals from the Sand to the Sea. Our journey will start in Palm Springs and end with a grand finish in San Diego.

Fundraising Events 2022

ARTcetera

Last Fall, Houston’s most talented artists came together for an interactive, live arts event benefiting Pablove. Guests watched in amazement as 20 artists created original pieces on-site which were then auctioned off to fight childhood cancer with love!

To learn more or involve your brand or company as a sponsor, visit artceterahouston.com or scan the code!

LOOKING FORWARD: Looking forward: ARTcetera was such fun and a successful fundraiser that we’re bringing this exciting event back in 2023! Join us September 16th in Houston, TX.

Fundraising Events 2022

LA Marathon

We run for kids with cancer! TEAMpablove was back once again as an official charity partner of the 2023 Los Angeles Marathon. Our team had 57 participants who ran, jogged and walked for Pablove!

Our LA Big5K team of walkers had a blast and included a broader range of athletes – including some Shutterbugs and their families. Thank you all for putting in the miles to help fight childhood cancer with love!

Scan to join our mailing list and keep up with all things pablove!

LOOKING FORWARD: Sweating for a cause is so powerful and we can’t wait to do it again. Lace up your sneakers and join TEAMpablove as part of the 2024 LA Marathon! More details to come. Join our mailing list if you haven’t already and you will learn when we officially restart TEAMpablove – and more!
